CREATIVE WRITING

(30 HOURS COURSE)

Course Description

Literature is an integral part of life. Whether it's a poem, a story, a novel, a play, an essay or even a flash fiction it has got the great ability affect, influence and inspire us. Art and literature always give value and solace to life. There are numerous characters from world classics that might have influenced us and made us ponder more about life. There are numerous poems which made us read it umpteen number of times by its poetic beauty, its power to evoke life to certain situations and feel new perceptions. There might be such literary works that you might want to explore more and go deep into with your own interpretation and analysis. Perhaps you may want to respond to certain works with your own rewriting of it. Perhaps you may want to engross yourself in the linguistic beauty of the work to enhance your knowledge and skill regarding the English Language. And most importantly you may want to write one on your own; a poem, a story, an essay with which you want to entrance the readers. The course conceived here intends to address such needs and interests of the students who want to engage themselves into such literary pursuits with the multiple purpose of imbibing better critical thinking, judgement power, linguistic ability, writing skills, and language improvement in general. The Course aims to make the students attain the desired reading and writing skills through a powerful discourse through the close reading of some selected works and through writing workshops.
